FOURTH ANNUAL MEETING OF THE AMERICAN SOCIETY OF MAMMALOGISTS

The fourth annual meeting of the American Society of Mammalogists was held in the American Museum of Natural History, New York City, May 16-18, 1922. There were 52 members in attendance. One of the more important items of business transacted was the hearty endorsement of the raising of a publication fund in honor of the late Dr. J. A. Allen. This fund is to be known as the Allen Memorial Fund and is to be administered by the directors of the Society. It is planned to raise not less than $10,000, the income of which shall be used for the publication of certain numbers of the Journal of Mammalogy to be dedicated to the memory of Doctor Allen. Thus in creating this fund we shall not only honor this eminent and pioneer mammalogist, our first honorary member, and a man beloved by all who knew him, but we shall also make possible the publication of a number of the Journal about once every year from the proceeds of the fund. This should enable us to increase the pagination of each number of the Journal to at least 100 pages. Each member of the Society will be given an opportunity to contribute to the memorium. Let us make an actual sacrifice for this cause, realizing that by so doing we shall not only continually bring to life the memory of Doctor Allen, but shall enhance our more selfish interests by improving the Journal of Mammalogy. The Allen Memorial committee appointed by the president consists of Mr. Madison Grant, chairman; Dr. Henry Fairfield Osborn; Mr. Childs Frick; Dr. George Bird Grinnell, and Mr. H. E. Anthony. Local committees to act with the central committee may be appointed later.

The Directors of the Society sanctioned the organization of the Southern California Section of the American Society of Mammalogists, of which Mr. A. B. Howell has been elected president, and Mr. Luther Little secretary.

The competitive exhibition of photographs of mammals, installed by the American Museum of Natural History in connection with the meeting, was a noteworthy success. Nearly 1700 photographs from about 140 persons were exhibited. The judges appointed by the Society were Dr. Wilfred H. Osgood, chairman; Mr. H. E. Anthony; Dr. Witmer Stone; Mr. Charles R. Knight, and Mr. James L. Clark. The awards were as follows:

On November 20, 1921, the American Society of Mammalogists was constituted an affiliated society of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. At present 83 members of the mammal society are fellows of the American Association, which allows us one representative on the council of the Association. The Society will undoubtedly soon have among its members 100 fellows of the Association, when we shall be entitled to two representatives on the council of the Association. The by-laws of the American Association provide that members of affiliated societies have the privilege of becoming members of the American Association without payment of the usual entrance fee, if they make application before the second October 1 following their entrance into the Society. When a society first becomes affiliated this special privilege is offered to all of its members, the offer being open until the second October 1 following the ratification of the arrangements of affiliation. The Board of Directors elected the corresponding secretary to represent the Society in the council of the American Association.

The report of the corresponding secretary summarized the membership of the Society on May 16, 1922, thus:
